Publishing

- All attendees were given a final deadline date of end of October to submit a paper. This produced 1 more paper.

- All transparencies have been processed.

- We anticipate publishing EBIS/T 2022 by the end of November.

All things IT:

- 1 Meetings Owl: https://owllabs.ca/
- 2 Lenova laptops configured with JACoW software and settings. 1 for Speaker Ready; and the other for Presentations.
- 1 printer for Proceedings/Speaker Ready/Office room - co-sharing a board room
- 2 logi clicker/pointers
- 2 wireless handheld microphones for meeting room
- 1 Designer King 8' Tripod Screen
- 1 Desktop LCD Proj 2000-4000 Lumen and portable table

Considerations

EBIS/T is a first of its series accepted to JACoW for publishing. Being a new publishing platform for the authors many did not have a profile. Many also chose not to publish.

One attendee asked for their slides to be removed, and did not wish to publish their work.

Historically this series attracks a large attendance from Russia. Due to restrictions this impacted the attendance.

Planning

- EBIST/T was to take place in 2021.
- Contracts were re-negotiated due to Covid and the event was moved to June 2022 which overlapped with IPAC'22.
- The overlap impacted sponsorship and exhibitor committment.
- The overlap seemed to have little to no impact on attandance.
- Negotiated room rates for 2021 were honoured for 2022.
